North Carolina Central University has 8,096 students and is the nation's oldest state-supported liberal arts college for black students and is a public University offering programs at the baccalaureate, master's, professional, and doctoral levels. NCCU is a first-choice, premier global institution of higher learning.

ADMINISTRATIVE POSITIONS

Chair and Professor, Department of History North Carolina Central University
Reporting directly to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences this position collaborates broadly with campus partners and serves as a liaison with the college, other departments, student affairs, support services, and the Registrar's office to promote student success: further responsible for providing administrative management, leadership and oversight for the department. Our department consists of 10 tenure track faculty, 1 artist-in-residence, 2 adjunct faculty and 1 Administrative Assistant and is operated in a manner consistent with established University policies and procedures.

Oversee the planning, development, implementation assessment, and improvement of the undergraduate and graduate degree programs, policies, and supporting infrastructure, including facilities and information technology. Ensure academic preeminence through planning for faculty recruitment, retention, and renewal as well as quality, and delivery of education provided to the Department of History undergraduate and graduate students. Act as the principle liaison to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and the Associate Provost and Dean of the Graduate School. Meet with faculty, staff, and students to engage in problem solving by devising equitable responses and solutions. Manage a total departmental budget of $1,164,891.67, in addition to $14,620.45 in the NCCU Foundation account.

As Chair I provide leadership and administrative and programmatic oversight for all policies, budgets, facilities, and personnel within the department. Serve as senior executive responsible for day-to-day department operations and makes decisions on behalf of the faculty. Convene monthly meetings with the faculty to address issues relating to curriculum, student learning, student professional development, classroom upgrades and educational innovations. Maintain an organizational structure and staffing to effectively accomplish the Department's strategic goals and objectives; oversee student recruitment and faculty professional development and evaluation of faculty; develop reports and present to the Dean's Office as well as internal and external constituents; develop a strategic vision that affects faculty and student success, retention and graduation rates; create a strong sense of team and ensure spirit of collaboration and common purpose throughout the Department; increase effectiveness and efficiency of the Department; be a visible, advocate and vocal leader throughout the university; develop key relationships with academic and administrative colleagues to further the missions of the university; lead strategic campus initiatives as may be determined in close collaboration with the strategic plans of the College of Arts and Sciences and the University.

Major Accomplishments:

- Lead the Department of History to achieve graduation rates below 5 years.
- Increased graduation rates 24% student graduation rate, and a 95% graduation rate among transfer students for 2 years.
- Spearheaded effort that led to the Department of History being as the #1 HBCU Department of History and ranked #2 in the nation out of all institutions of higher education for conferring bachelor degrees to African American students in the Top 100 Degree Producers in Diverse Issues in Higher Education rankings for 2018. Previously ranked at #6 in 2016 and 2017.
- Lead the effort to train top undergraduate students to enter Ph.D. programs in History with full funding. The results have been 2018 one student was admitted to Duke University; 2019 one students admitted to Michigan State University and one student admitted to Ohio State University. 2020 one student admitted to Michigan State University, one student admitted to the University of Pittsburgh, and one to University of Houston.
- Spearheaded a fundraising campaign which yielded $10,000 to support departmental needs.
- Lead the Department to receive a commitment of $25,000.00 Endowment for the Department of History to support Hip Hop Central initiatives. Half of the funding has been raised.
- Lead the Department to receive $25,000 Endowments to fund scholarships for students.

- Lead the Department to receive the 2014 Equity Award from the American Historical Association for the graduate program sending students to earn the Ph.D. in History. This award recognizes individuals and institutions that have achieved excellence in recruiting and retaining underrepresented racial and ethnic groups into the historical professions. the department received the award for sending more students to earn doctoral degrees than any other Historically Black College or University (HBCU). From 2013 through 2018 twenty-three alumni have earned the Ph.D.
- Established a partnership with GoDurham Transportation in Durham to create a Public History project to identify all of the historic sites and markers in Durham, NC and create voiceovers for bus routes to present the history of Durham on selected GoDurham transportation routes.
- Lead the Department of History to increasing enrollment in the graduate program.
- Established an interdisciplinary concentration in Hip Hop.
- Developed a joint JD/MA in History degree program with the NCCU School of Law.
- Spearheaded the expansion of the Public History program.

Mini-Documentary Projects Produced

The mini-documentary series was developed to take a Public History approach creating media in a digital format to disseminate history to the public. These mini-docs highlight a few of the lives of noted North Carolina Central University Alumni. They are useful video tools for elementary and middle school children that will introduce them to alumni from North Carolina Central University. These documentaries are part of the mini-documentary lab series created in the Department of History.
